San Diego City College History

Land Acknowledgement

San Diego City College acknowledges that we gather on unceded Kumeyaay land. We value Indigenous knowledge and cultural worldview. We commit to providing transformative educational experiences for all campus members and guests as we examine practices that perpetuate harm against Indigenous, Black, Brown, and other marginalized communities. We pledge to sustain a meaningful and respectful relationship with the Kumeyaay and other Indigenous communities as we honor this beautiful land together.

About San Diego City College

Established in 1914, San Diego City College (SDCC) was the first community college in San Diego, starting with 34 students and four instructors. Over the years, SDCC has grown significantly, now blasting more than 15,000 students and 1,300 faculty, administrators, managers, and classified professionals.

Initially, classes were conducted at San Diego High School, located across the street from the current campus. The college then moved to various locations, including the Park Boulevard campus of the State Normal School (now San Diego State University), the Ford building in Balboa Park (now the Aerospace Museum), Lincoln Grade School at 12th and E St., and a munitions warehouse at State St. and Market St.

Construction began in 1956 on the first buildings of the present campus, the A and T buildings. Throughout the 1970s, the City of San Diego Redevelopment Urban Renewal Funds helped develop the 60-acre campus in downtown San Diego.

Several key facilities were added over the years, including the Educational Technology Center in 2000, the 67,000 square-foot Learning Resource Center in 2003, and the 2,000-seat Harry West Gymnasium in 2005. The Academic Success Center opened in 2009, followed by the Career Technology Center in 2010 and the Mathematics, Social, and Behavioral Sciences Building in 2013.

In 2014, the Life Sciences and Physical Sciences opened its new Science Building, followed by the Arts & Humanities and Business Technology buildings in 2015. The Student Affairs and Scholarship Office opened in 2015, and the Center for the Media and Performing Arts opened in 2016.

A major renovation project for the oldest buildings (A, D, T) began in 2017 and was completed in 2018, providing new homes for various departments. The Student Services & Administration Building and Engineering & Technologies Building received Gold certifications under the US Green Building Council's LEED program in 2019.

In 2021, the new Early Education Center, featuring classrooms and a playground, was completed.

In 2023, San Diego Community College District leaders gathered at City College with public officials and community members for a ceremonial groundbreaking at the future site of an affordable student housing development, which will rise eight stories above the East Village campus and offer below-market rent to some of the region's neediest students. The college anticipates opening the development in fall 2028.

Mission, Academic Regalia & Colors

College Mission Statement

San Diego City College welcomes and inspires every student to identify and pursue their community, personal, educational, and professional goals. We prioritize accessibility, equity, and social justice through student-centered support services and educational opportunities for global learning. We offer general education, associate and bachelor's degrees, transfer pathways, certificates, and career technical education for personal enrichment and economic mobility.

Academic Regalia and Colors

The custom of wearing distinctive dress for academic ceremonies goes back to the Middle Ages. Most of the scholars in the early universities belonged to religious orders and the robes and hoods identified them as belonging to a particular group. Their robes, caps, and hoods had a very practical purpose as the buildings where scholars lived, studied, and taught were cold and drafty. Academic dress, as we know it today, has changed little in the past 300 years. Hoods are worn by those with graduate degrees only, and the color represents the field of study.
